

Flexible Investment Plan

Short Fund Guide

This short fund guide gives you a list of funds you can choose from and an indication of the potential reward and risk of each fund. Your Financial Adviser will give you a full fund guide which provides more information on the funds available, including the objective of each fund and its risk profile. Alternatively, you can visit our website www.pru.co.uk/funds. We shall send you a copy of the full fund guide when you take out the plan.

Potential Reward and Risk Indicator

Investing is about balancing the risk you are comfortable with alongside the potential rewards that you want to achieve. Your attitude to investment risk is personal to you and may change in the future.

The table opposite can help illustrate this concept. It's not exhaustive, but covers a wide range of funds and investments and shows the general principle that, as the level for potential higher returns increases so does the level of risk. The following pages indicate how this relates to our funds.

The value of our funds may fluctuate. You may not get back the full amount of your investment.

For investments in the With-Profits Funds, the value of the Policy depends on how much profit the Funds make and how we decide to distribute it.

These risk rating categories have been developed by Prudential to help provide an indication of the potential level of risk and reward that is attributable to a fund based on the type of assets which may be held within the fund. Other companies may use different descriptions and as such these risk rating categories should not be considered as generic to the fund management industry.

Prudential will keep the risk rating categories under regular review and as such they may be subject to change in the future. Where a risk rating is amended as a result of, in our view, a significant change to the assets held by the fund or in the way the fund is managed information will be provided on the new risk rating. We recommend that before making any fund choice in the future you ensure you understand the appropriate risk ratings at that time.

You will find this information in our Fund Guides, along with further information, at www.pru.co.uk/funds. You should also consider discussing your decision with your Financial Adviser. It is important to also note that your Financial Adviser may make their own assessment of the risk rating of funds when considering your needs and objectives, and this may differ from Prudential's own internal assessment. They may charge you for advice.

Potential Reward and Risk Indicator	Types of Fund *
6 Higher	Single Country Equity Funds, International Equity Funds, Specialist Funds

2	Mixed Investment 0-35% Shares Sterling Fixed Interest Funds Corporate Bond Funds Protected/Guaranteed Funds
1 Lower	Deposit & Treasury Funds Money Market Funds

* These are predominantly based on sector classifications by the Association of British Insurers (ABI). The description used may match an individual ABI sector name or be a Prudential suggested description for a grouping of similar sectors.
The only exception to this is "With-Profits" which is not classified by the ABI.

 Some funds invest in our With-Profits Fund and appear in a lower or higher Potential Reward and Risk Indicator category. This is because of the different asset mix that applies to each PruFund Fund. Please refer to the specific PruFund reward and risk indicators on the next page. Our Fund Guides provide further information.

The information included in this guide is correct as at 7 November 2011.

Please remember that the name of a fund is not indicative of the risk that it may take.
