

Prohibited countries list

As part of the Prudential Group, Prudential International is fully committed to the Group's policy of upholding sanctions to help prevent organised crime and terrorism. Under the sanctions policy, we (and other Prudential companies) will not accept business from clients who are resident in the following countries.

In addition, as a result of these restrictions:

- › Correspondence addresses in any of the following countries will not be accepted.
- › Where the applicant is a trust, nominee company or similar entity, the underlying beneficiaries or investors must not be resident in any of the following countries.
- › You must not solicit, negotiate or transact business in any of the following countries.

Please note that while we may accept beneficial owners from countries not on this list, we can only accept applicants/policyholders from territories where we have a compliant product available. For a list of these territories please refer to our Acceptance of Business Criteria (AOBC) guide (IPBB10252)

Due to regulatory, tax and other restrictions, Prudential International doesn't currently accept any business from residents of the following countries.
