About the Prudential International Investment Portfolio

The Prudential International Investment Portfolio is an investment bond which enables you to invest in a range of investments with the potential for growth.

It allows you to take tax-efficient withdrawals, while providing an element of life cover.

Its aims

What this bond is designed to do

- Grow the value of your investment.
- Allow you to withdraw your money tax efficiently.
- Give access to a wide range of investments to match your investment objectives and attitude to risk.
- Provide a small amount of death benefit.

Your commitment

What we ask you to do

- Your initial investment into the bond must be at least £50,000 (or currency equivalent). The minimum top-up investment is £5,000 (or currency equivalent).
- You will look to invest over the medium to long term, at least 5-10 years.
- Together with your Financial Adviser you need to choose investments to suit your needs and keep them under regular review.

Risks

What you need to be aware of

Investing money can be rewarding, but it's not without risk. We've highlighted the key risks you should consider before investing in this product.

- The value of your bond can go down as well as up and may even fall below the amount you invested – what you get back is not guaranteed.
- Each of the investment choices available for the Prudential International Investment Portfolio has its own specific risks that will affect the value of your bond. Some also have features which mean there are restrictions on taking money out or moving money between investments. You should discuss these with your Financial Adviser and also read your Fund Guide for more information.
- In exceptional circumstances, a transaction (such as a full or partial cash-in) may be delayed which may mean you face a delay in gaining access to your money. You can find more information in the Contract Conditions.
- If the value of the bond assets falls below a minimum level we reserve the right to cancel the bond and pay you the value of the remaining investments less any charges. Further details can be found in the Contract Conditions and Statement of Charges.
- Fluctuations in exchange rates and associated costs could affect the value of your investment or withdrawals. This applies whether or not you have appointed a Discretionary Asset Manager (DAM).

Questions & Answers

Is the Prudential International Investment Portfolio right for me?

You can take out this bond if you're aged 18 or over and a UK resident. You can take the bond out on your own or jointly with another person.

You shouldn't invest if you feel you don't understand the risks associated with investing. Remember that the level of risk you take depends on the options you choose from where you invest your money.

How flexible is it?

You are free to change your investments whenever you want to. You can withdraw money from your bond at any time.

Your bond can be written under trust if you wish.

When you set up your bond you can choose to manage your investments:

- with your Financial Adviser,
- by appointing an Investment Adviser,
- by appointing a Discretionary Asset Manager with whom we have an agreement to manage them for your, or
- by nominating someone other than an Investment Adviser or Discretionary Asset Manager to provide instructions on your behalf.

If you appoint a Discretionary Asset Manager, details of their charges will be available from your Financial Adviser.

How much can I pay into my bond?

There is no maximum you can invest but investments in excess of £10 million (or currency equivalent) may require additional checks to be carried out. The minimum initial investment is £50,000 (or currency equivalent) and £5,000 (or currency equivalent) for top-ups.

Where are my payments invested?

You, your Financial Adviser, or your Discretionary Asset Manager can choose which assets you would like to invest in from a wide range, including collective investments and cash deposits and those assets will then be linked to your bond.

Permitted Investments

Each asset must be one that we permit. This is known as a "Permitted Investment". We will only permit an asset that would mean your bond is not classified as a "Personal Portfolio Bond". We will maintain a list of these available assets which can be viewed via your Financial Adviser. We may add or remove any asset(s) from this list without notice.

If a change in the structure of an investment or a change in how an investment is viewed under UK law means that your bond could be classified as a "Personal Portfolio Bond", you could become liable for an annual tax charge that could be substantial. In this situation you would have to sell that asset immediately and either leave the proceeds in the Cash Account or invest them in a Permitted Investment. If we become aware that an asset has ceased to be a Permitted Investment or we have ceased to approve of an asset, we will notify you, your Financial Adviser or your Discretionary Asset Manager of the need to sell the asset and request your or their instruction. Where we do not receive an instruction by the date specified in the notification, we will sell the asset and credit the proceeds of the sale to one of our deposit funds.

More information on this can be found in your Contract Conditions.

As a UK resident you are able to invest in deposit funds denominated in currencies other than Sterling to obtain a higher rate of interest but you are not able to invest in cash for currency speculation purposes. For more information about the investments you can choose, please speak to your Financial Adviser.

Can I switch money between funds?

In the first year of your bond, you get 20 free deals. In every year after that, you get 10 free deals which allow you to move money between investments. Each investment you buy or sell counts as one deal. So buying and selling at the same time would be two deals.

If you appoint a Discretionary Asset Manager, they will make these investment choices for you and the free deals will not apply to the assets they manage.

We will charge for any extra deals unless they involve our own funds. For more information please read the section "What are the bond charges?".

What is the Deposit Account within my bond for?

Where there is no Discretionary Asset Manager involved, we set up a Deposit Account within your bond. We do this so you can meet the deductions described below more easily than if you had to sell fund holdings.

The Deposit Account is used to meet all withdrawals and all bond charges. The Deposit Account will also be used to meet any Adviser Charges which are the charges your Financial Adviser makes to you for advice provided and on-going services to you. You will agree these with your Financial Adviser.

If you don't have enough money in your Deposit Account to meet any bond charges, Adviser Charges or withdrawals, you will go into a 'negative balance' you can find further details of this in your Contract Conditions. We will apply a charge to a negative balance. The level of this charge is shown on the opposite side of this page in the "Bond Charges" section.

In some circumstances, we will sell some of your fund holdings and use the value to reduce or pay off a negative balance. You can find further details of this in your Contract Conditions.

If you appoint a Discretionary Asset Manager, you will still have a Deposit Account, but charges (including any Adviser Charges being met from your bond) and withdrawals will normally be taken from your investments. There will never be any Negative Balance Charge as described earlier in this section on any part of your bond managed by a Discretionary Asset Manager.

If you have appointed more than one Discretionary Asset Manager, or if only part of your bond is managed by a Discretionary Asset Manager, any Ongoing Adviser Charges will be taken from assets managed by each Discretionary Asset Manager and, where applicable, your Deposit Account, in proportion to the investments held.

If you de-select a Discretionary Asset Manager, we will take any Ongoing Adviser Charges (or that part of them that was previously taken from the assets managed by the Discretionary Asset Manager) from your Deposit Account. We will continue to do this unless or until you appoint another Discretionary Asset Manager.

However, if only part of your bond is managed by the Discretionary Asset Manager, you will have a Deposit Account in relation to the rest and this may incur Negative Balance Charges in the normal way.

What are the bond charges?

There are three different charging structures available. Your personal illustration shows how the charges will affect your bond based on the amount you invest and example growth rates. It will also show any Adviser Charges you have asked us to pay on your behalf.

Bond charges

Setting up and administering your bond	The charges are shown on your personal illustration.
Managing your investments	The majority of investments available have an Annual Management Charge and some investments have additional fund manager expenses. For more information please speak to your Financial Adviser. If you invest in funds that are managed by external managers there is a Custodian Charge which is currently 0.03% (for 2018) of the value of your investment in those funds each year. This does not apply to holdings managed by a Discretionary Asset Manager.
Deals that involve external funds ( assets that are not managed by a Discretionary Asset Manager )	After you have used the free deals, we currently (for 2018) charge £27.11 (or currency equivalent) for every extra deal that involves external funds. The custodian of each external fund makes a charge for every deal, which is currently (for 2018) £20 (or currency equivalent).
Having a negative balance in your Deposit Account	Our Negative Balance Charge, applied to your accumulated negative balance, is overnight LIBOR plus 3% a year. The charge is applied daily.

Discretionary Asset Manager charges	If you choose to appoint one or more Discretionary Asset Manager we make a charge of 0.1% a year of the value of the assets managed by the Discretionary Asset Manager(s). This is deducted quarterly, based on the bond value (or the value of the relevant part of the bond) at the last quarterly valuation date. If you appoint or de-select a Discretionary Asset Manager at any point during the quarter between valuation dates, the charge will apply for the whole quarter. The custodian and dealing charges referred to on the previous page do not apply to assets managed by a Discretionary Asset Manager, but the Discretionary Asset Manager may make its own charges for dealing and custodian services. All the charges made by the Discretionary Asset Manager(s) for their services will be as shown on your Discretionary Asset Manager nomination form. They will be charged to us and we will then meet them by taking an equivalent charge from your bond.
Early cash in	If you fully cash in your bond within five years of making any payment there may be an Early Cash-in Charge. Where this applies, this is shown on your personal illustration.

Can I pay my Financial Adviser(s) from my bond?

Your Financial Adviser may agree charges with you. If you wish, you can ask us to pay some or all of these charges on your behalf from your investment. You will need to give us an instruction for the charges you want to have paid and we will then deduct the appropriate amount from your initial payment or your bond (depending on the type of charge) and pay it directly to your Financial Adviser.

The charges we can manage on your behalf are as follows:

From your initial payment

- Set-up Adviser Charge (SAC): this can be a percentage of your total payment or a fixed monetary amount. We will deduct the charge from the money you send us, before we invest the balance into your bond. For example, if you send us £100,000 and ask us to pay a Set-up Adviser Charge of 5%, we will pay £5,000 to your Financial Adviser and invest £95,000 in your bond.
- As the Set-up Adviser Charge is deducted from your payment before investment it will not be included in the 5% tax-deferral allowance that applies to withdrawals from the bond. This is because the allowance is based on the amount invested into your bond after any Set-up Adviser Charge has been paid – not the total payment that you send to us.

From your bond

- Ongoing Adviser Charge: this can be a monetary amount, a percentage of the amount invested into your bond or a percentage of the bond value (at the time the charge is taken). We will deduct the charge quarterly on each date that we value the bond.
- You can change the amount of an Ongoing Adviser Charge at any time, using the form PIIBF10006 or by giving us instructions in writing. You can also stop the charge at any time by giving us instructions in writing.
- If you ask us to pay Ongoing Adviser Charges from your bond, these will be treated in the same way as regular withdrawals. In terms of Income Tax, they will count towards the annual 5% tax-deferred allowance for UK resident policyholders. This is the amount you can withdraw from your bond without having any immediate Income Tax liability.

In addition to the charges shown above and on the previous page, we may incur some additional costs that are applied to the bond which may impact the overall performance of the fund. These costs include trading, dealing costs and property expenses.

Please note: Our bond charges are reviewed annually and may change in the future. Further information can be found in the Statement of Charges and the Contract Conditions.

- Ongoing Investment Adviser Charge: if you choose to appoint an Investment Adviser for your bond, you can ask us to pay the agreed charge on your behalf and we will deduct it from your bond on each quarterly date we value your bond – see "How will I know how my bond is doing?". It can be expressed as a monetary amount, a percentage of the amount invested into your bond or a percentage of the bond value (at the time the charge is taken).
- You can change the amount of an Ongoing Investment Adviser Charge at any time, using the form PIIBF10006 or by giving us instructions in writing. You can also stop the charge at any time by giving us instructions in writing.
- Ad hoc Adviser Charge: you can ask us to pay one-off charges to your Financial Adviser on your behalf, by deducting the amount from your bond. This can be a monetary amount or a percentage of the bond value (at the time the charge is taken).
- If we are paying any Adviser Charges from your bond and you are also taking regular withdrawals or one-off withdrawals by partially cashing in all the policies in your bond, these will be added together for the purposes of the 5% deferred allowance. See the section "What about tax?".

What might I get back?

There is a projection of how much you could get back in your personal illustration, based on example growth rates and the amount you choose to invest in the bond.

What you actually get back will depend on:

- how much you've invested,
- which funds you've invested in,
- how long you've invested for
- how your investments have performed,
- the bond charges that have been taken,
- any withdrawals you have made,
- any Adviser Charges you've asked us to pay from your bond, and
- any early cash in charge that may apply.

How do I take money out my bond?

You can make one-off withdrawals, or set up regular withdrawals from your bond. The minimum amount for any type of withdrawal is £500 (or currency equivalent).

Your bond is set up as a group of identical policies. The standard number is 20, although you can choose to have more or fewer. The bond is set up in this way to help you make tax-efficient withdrawals.

Regular withdrawals are taken evenly across all the policies in your bond. For one-off withdrawals, you can choose to cash in individual policies, take the withdrawal across all policies under your bond, or a combination of those two methods.

If you ask us to pay you by telegraphic transfer, we will make a charge to recover the cost to us, which is currently (for 2018) £17. This charge may increase in future, as detailed in the Statement of Charges.

Regular withdrawals are deducted directly from your bond and may be taken every:

- month,
- three months,
- four months,
- six months, or
- 12 months.

If you appoint a Discretionary Asset Manager regular withdrawals will normally be taken directly from your investments. However, if you have appointed more than one Discretionary Asset Manager, or if only part of your bond is managed by a Discretionary Asset Manager, you can choose which portion of the bond the withdrawals are taken from.

You can only make a withdrawal (regular or one-off) if your bond value would be more than £7,500 (before and after the withdrawal), or 15% of the money invested in the bond over the previous five years – whichever is the greater.

If the value of your bond falls below this minimum, we'll ask you to top it up. If you don't top it up within a month, we may cancel your bond and pay you its cash-in value after we have taken any charges.

We will stop paying any Ongoing Adviser Charges and/or Ongoing Investment Adviser Charges that you have asked us to pay on your behalf if the bond value is below the minimum or if paying the charge would take it below the minimum.

What about tax?

This section gives brief information about UK tax. For specific advice, please speak to your Financial or Tax Adviser.

For more information please visit the HM Revenue and Customs website at www.hmrc.gov.uk

Capital Gains Tax

You won't have to pay this on your bond.

Income Tax

You may have to pay Income Tax on any withdrawals you make from your bond.

Each year you can withdraw up to 5% of the amount you have invested in your bond without having an immediate tax bill. You may do this by taking regular withdrawals and/or one-off withdrawals by partially cashing in all the policies in your bond.

If you don't use all of this 5% allowance in any year, you can carry the unused portion forward. The allowance comes to an end once you have withdrawn 100% of the amount you invested. If you withdraw more than the allowance in any year, you may have to pay Income Tax on the excess amount.

The 5% allowance also applies to any top-up investment you make. Any Ongoing Adviser Charges, Ongoing Investment Adviser Charges, Ad hoc Adviser Charges, regular withdrawals or one-off withdrawals you ask us to pay by partially cashing in all the policies in your bond, will be counted against the 5% allowance.

You may also have to pay Income Tax if:

- you cash in your bond or any policies in it,
- you transfer legal ownership of your bond, or
- your bond ends on the death of a life assured and the death benefit is payable.

A gain on your bond will be added to your total taxable income for that tax year and you will normally pay tax on the gain at your highest rate, although in some cases you may be able to claim "top-slicing" relief.

Gains from your bond may affect any entitlement to personal Income Tax allowances or certain tax credits.

If you have been non-resident in the UK for tax purposes during the period you have owned the policy, you may be entitled to a reduction in tax payable for any taxable gains made during your non-residency (time apportioned reduction). Further details can be found in the HM Revenue & Customs helpsheet HS321 "Gains on foreign life insurance policies".

Inheritance Tax

If your bond isn't in trust, your estate may have to pay inheritance tax on it when you die.

Irish Exit Tax

If you become resident in Ireland, we'll deduct Irish Exit Tax from your bond:

- every eight years;
- when any benefits are paid out; or
- when the owners of the bond change.

We pay this tax to the Irish tax authorities. If you're not resident in Ireland, you don't have to pay Irish Exit Tax provided you complete the "Declaration of residence outside Ireland" which is contained within the application form.

Tax rules for trusts

If your bond is written under trust, special tax rules apply. For more information, please speak to your Financial Adviser.

Tax rules for corporate investors

UK Corporate investors cannot benefit from the 5% annual tax-deferred allowance. For more information, please contact your Financial Adviser.

We've based this information on our understanding of current law and HM Revenue and Customs practice. Your individual circumstances and future changes in law and tax practice could affect the amount you pay.

How will I know how my bond is doing?

We will send you a free statement every quarter. We value your bond on the following dates:

- 31 March,
- 30 June,
- 30 September, and
- 31 December.

If you request an additional valuation, we will currently make a charge of £115.83 (for 2018). This charge may change each year – see your Statement of Charges and Contract Conditions for more details. Alternatively, you can contact your Financial Adviser for a value.

If you have appointed one or more Discretionary Asset Manager, they will provide you with valuations of the assets they are managing for you. The quarterly statements you will receive from us will show the overall value of any assets managed by the Discretionary Asset Manager(s), but not the individual holdings or any transactions.

What happens to the Prudential International Investment Portfolio if I die?

The bond will end when the life assured dies, or in the case of a joint life bond, when the last surviving life assured dies. The bond will pay out 100.1% of the cash-in value. The death benefit will be paid out to the estate of the deceased owner or, if the bond is under trust, to the remaining trustees, as appropriate.

If the owner dies but they are not the life assured, the bond will not end and ownership of the bond will pass to the owner's estate, unless the bond was owned jointly or is under trust; in which case it will normally pass to the surviving owner(s) or to the remaining trustees, as appropriate.

What if the bond is not right for me?

You have 30 days from when you first receive your bond documents to cancel. For any additional investments you make into your bond you will also receive a 30 day cancellation period for them.

If you decide to cancel an additional investment it will not affect any existing investment you have in place. We'll include a cancellation notice with these documents and if you decide to cancel, you can send us a completed notice or write to us with your bond reference number at:

Operations Department
Prudential International
Montague House
Adelaide Road
Dublin 2
Ireland

After the 30 day cancellation period, the bond cannot normally be cancelled and will continue as set out in this document.

If more than one person owns the Prudential International Investment Portfolio, we will accept cancellation within 30 days by either of the owners, whether they're acting alone or jointly.

If you decide to cancel your Prudential International Investment Portfolio or top up investment and you've asked us to pay a Set-up Adviser Charge, we will not refund this to you, as we will have paid it to your Financial Adviser on your behalf. This also applies to any Adviser Charges paid out from your bond. What you will get back from us will only relate to the amount actually invested into your bond. If its value has gone down, you may not get all the money back. We will refund the amount invested in your bond adjusted for any fall in the unit prices of the funds you invested in and for any withdrawal, Ongoing Adviser Charge and/or Ongoing Investment Adviser Charge paid from the bond. This means that, if the value of assets held under the bond has fallen and/or any withdrawals/Adviser Charges have been taken from the bond, you may get back less than the amount of your investment.

Some investments held under the bond, may be designed for a fixed term (such as fixed term deposits) or could have redemption penalties and seeking the return of the investment within the 30-day cancellation period can result in charges being applied by the external entity managing the investment. The application of these charges will adversely affect the value of your investment and could result in substantial loss.
